Follow Bentley on disassembly of dash, the air box does not need to be removed from the vehicle in order to do this, only the front of the box.

You will see the two blend doors that will need to be plugged:

I start by doing the largest holes on the front blend door first.
Apply chemical gasket maker to the following section of the oval or large round plugs
(depending on your application)

Install the oval or large round plugs first, it should look something like this when it's done.

Apply chemical gasket maker to the smaller round plugs

Install on all holes on the rearward blend door
